

IGU Social Gas Award 2009

The IGU Social Gas Award

“Encouraging Gas Efficient Behaviour”

Idea, intention and concept

IGU considers gas efficiency and conservation as one of the more important ways to achieve a more sustainable future and enhance security of supply. Under the motto “Encouraging Gas Efficient Behaviour” IGU has established an IGU Social Gas Award in order to call for ideas of projects aiming at getting people to act more gas efficient.

IGU intends by this award to

- Demonstrate IGU as a social responsible organisation in generating ideas and proposals for improved gas efficient behaviour.
- Strengthen its ties to the private and public sector.
- Increase IGU’s perception as an organisation concerned about sustainability.

IGU invites to propose projects related to the stimulation of a gas efficient behaviour coming from all kinds of organisations from public and private sector such as authorities, educational institutions, social institutions, professional associations and companies.

In 2009 the best project, which is deemed feasible and achievable and which provides the most substantial improvement in encouraging people to a gas efficient behaviour will be awarded.

What kind of projects?

The required projects aim at gas efficiency and conservation behaviour. It can be all kinds of projects which influence behaviour like e.g. training programs, public regulations, product labelling, etc.

The projects may already have been realised but not earlier than one year before sending them to the IGU Secretariat. If the project implementation has not yet started, it has to be detailed in the project description how and when it will be realised.

Which documents shall be submitted?

- Project description: up to 5 pages
The project description must elaborate on:
  - half page of non-technical abstract
  - idea

- educational method
- results obtained or expected
- current project phase
- project realisation
- CV of the project author or description of the organisation (1 page)

The prize

IGU offers one nonmonetary award in 2009. The winning project will be presented at the IGU Council meeting and World Gas Conference in Buenos Aires October 2009. Furthermore it will be featured in the IGU Magazine as well as on the IGU Website.
